RE: Interactive Brokers LLC, Respondent
Broker-Dealer
CRD No. 36418

Pursuant to Rule 9216 of the Nasdaq GEMX, LLC (“GEMX”) Code of Procedure,¹ Interactive Brokers LLC (“Interactive” or the “firm”) submits this Letter of Acceptance, Waiver and Consent (“AWC”) for the purpose of proposing a settlement of the alleged rule violations described below. This AWC is submitted on the condition that, if accepted, GEMX will not bring any future actions against the firm alleging violations based on the same factual findings described herein.

I.

ACCEPTANCE AND CONSENT

- A. The firm hereby accepts and consents, without admitting or denying the findings, and solely for the purposes of this proceeding and any other proceeding brought by or on behalf of GEMX, or to which GEMX is a party, prior to a hearing and without an adjudication of any issue of law or fact, to the entry of the following findings by GEMX:

BACKGROUND

Interactive has been a FINRA member since January 6, 1995 and a GEMX member since July 29, 2013. The firm offers online trading through self-directed accounts and clears transactions for retail and institutional customers, as well as for customers introduced to it by approximately 400 foreign and domestic introducing firms. Interactive is headquartered in Greenwich, Connecticut, maintains approximately 20 branches, and employs approximately 400 registered representatives.

RELEVANT PRIOR DISCIPLINARY HISTORY

The firm does not have any relevant disciplinary history on GEMX. In October 2020, Interactive consented to a censure and a fine of $237,500 to NYSE Arca in connection with its reporting of more than 525,000 options orders (comprised of approximately 2.1 million contracts) with the incorrect origin code of Customer instead of Professional Customer between January 2015 and November 2019 (NYSE Arca Matter No. 2020-06-00085).

SUMMARY

On behalf of GEMX and other exchanges, FINRA’s Department of Market Regulation reviewed Interactive’s compliance with rules governing the use of Professional Customer origin codes on options orders from October 2009 through August 7, 2022.² This review revealed that Interactive mismarked approximately 2.4 million transactions, totaling approximately 15.3 million contracts, which were erroneously executed as Customer instead of Professional Customer, of which approximately 534,000 contracts traded on GEMX between July 29, 2013 and August 7, 2022 (the “review period”). As a result, Interactive violated GEMX Rules Options 9, Sections 1 and 2, Options 6, Section 2, and Options 6E, Section 1; their predecessors GEMX Rules 400, 401, 712(a), and 1400(a);³ and Section 17(a)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), and Rule 17a-3(a)(6) thereunder.

Also during the review period, Interactive’s supervisory system was not reasonably designed to achieve compliance with the recordkeeping provisions of the federal securities laws and the rules of GEMX that govern the accuracy of options order origin codes, in violation of GEMX Rule Options 9, Sections 1 and 2 and their predecessors GEMX Rules 400 and 401.

FACTS AND VIOLATIVE CONDUCT

Inaccurate Origin Codes

1. GEMX rules require that, when accepting an order, a member must obtain and record an appropriate code to identify the origin of the order. During the review period, GEMX had multiple origin codes, including codes to indicate that an order originated from a Customer or Professional Customer. Origin codes are important because, among other things, they may determine an order’s execution priority and are part of the audit trail data for every transaction.
2. Section 17(a)(1) of the Exchange Act, and Rule 17a-3(a)(6)(i) thereunder, require broker-dealers to create a memorandum of each order, and any other instruction, showing the terms and conditions of the order. GEMX Rule Options 6E, Section 1(a) and its predecessor, GEMX Rule 1400(a), require members to make, keep current and preserve such books and records as prescribed by GEMX and by the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

² FINRA initiated its review based upon a self-report by Interactive pursuant to FINRA Rule 4530.

³ Effective June 27, 2019, GEMX Chapter 4 (which incorporated by reference ISE Chapter 4, including Rules 400 and 401) was superseded by GEMX Rule Options 9 (which incorporates by reference ISE Rule Options 9, including Sections 1 and 2); GEMX Rule 712(a) was superseded by GEMX Rule Options 6, Section 2; and GEMX Chapter 14 (which incorporated by reference ISE Chapter 14, including Rule 1400(a)) was superseded by GEMX Rule Options 6E (which incorporates by reference ISE Rule Options 6E, including Section 1).

3. GEMX Rule Options 6, Section 2 and its predecessor, GEMX Rule 712(a), require members to submit trade information in such form as may be prescribed by GEMX in order to allow GEMX to properly prioritize and match orders and report resulting transactions to the Options Clearing Corporation (“OCC”) for clearance.
4. GEMX Rule Options 9, Section 1 and its predecessor, GEMX Rule 400, prohibit members from engaging in acts or practices inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade.
5. GEMX Rule Options 9, Section 2 and its predecessor, GEMX Rule 401, prohibit members from “engag[ing] in conduct in violation of the Exchange Act, the By-Laws or the Rules of the Exchange, or the Rules of the Clearing Corporation insofar as they relate to the reporting or clearance of any Exchange Transaction, or any written interpretation thereof. Every Member shall so supervise persons associated with the Member as to assure compliance therewith.”
6. During the review period, Interactive used an automated order counting algorithm to determine whether a customer’s account should be coded as Professional Customer. However, Interactive failed to include complex orders and certain cancel/replace orders in the order counting logic. As a result, Interactive failed to identify certain customer accounts that should have been designated Professional Customer and incorrectly marked orders for those accounts with an origin code of Customer. These orders were routed to and executed on 12 exchanges, resulting in the firm mismarking approximately 2.4 million transactions, totaling approximately 15.3 million contracts, which were erroneously executed as Customer instead of Professional Customer, of which approximately 534,000 contracts traded on GEMX.
7. Instances in which the firm routed an order with an incorrect origin code potentially had adverse consequences, such as inadvertently impacting the priority of order execution, creating inaccurate records of purchases and sales, creating an inaccurate audit trail, reporting trades to OCC with inaccurate trade details, and impeding GEMX’s ability to surveil for and detect potential violations of its rules and the federal securities laws.
8. By marking orders with incorrect origin codes, Interactive violated Section 17(a)(1) of the Exchange Act and Rule 17a-3(a)(6) thereunder; GEMX Rules 400, 401, 712(a), and 1400(a) for conduct before June 27, 2019; and GEMX Rules Options 9, Sections 1 and 2, Options 6, Section 2, and Options 6E, Section 1 for conduct on and after June 27, 2019.

Supervisory Violations

9. During the review period, Interactive failed to establish and maintain a supervisory system reasonably designed to achieve compliance with origin code requirements. Interactive had written supervisory procedures addressing Professional Customer order capacity marking requirements, and it tested and reviewed certain automated reports designed to identify customers that should be classified as Professional Customers based on their U.S. option order activity levels. However, when the relevant logic to count customer orders for purposes of Professional Customer designations was released in 2009 and updated in 2012, Interactive did not test the logic for inclusion of complex orders and certain cancel/replace orders, nor did the firm test the order counting logic for the inclusion of such orders until early 2022. In addition, the firm failed to respond to several communications from firm personnel that could have alerted the firm to certain mismarked orders.

10. By failing to establish and maintain a supervisory system that was reasonably designed to achieve compliance with the recordkeeping provisions of the federal securities laws and the rules of GEMX that govern the accuracy of options order origin codes, Interactive violated GEMX Rules 400 and 401 for conduct before June 27, 2019, and GEMX Rule Options 9, Sections 1 and 2 for conduct on and after June 27, 2019.

B. The firm also consents to the imposition of the following sanctions:

1. a censure; and
2. a fine of $7,750,000, of which $269,839 shall be payable to GEMX.⁴

The firm agrees to pay the monetary sanction(s) upon notice that this AWC has been accepted and that such payment(s) are due and payable. The firm has submitted a Payment Information form showing the method by which it proposes to pay the fine imposed.

The firm specifically and voluntarily waives any right to claim that it is unable to pay, now or at any time hereafter, the monetary sanction(s) imposed in this matter.

The sanctions imposed herein shall be effective on a date set by FINRA staff.

II.

WAIVER OF PROCEDURAL RIGHTS

The firm specifically and voluntarily waives the following rights granted under GEMX's Code of Procedure:

- A. To have a Formal Complaint issued specifying the allegations against the firm;

The firm further specifically and voluntarily waives any right to claim that a person violated the ex parte prohibitions of Rule 9143 or the separation of functions prohibitions of Rule 9144, in connection with such person's or body's participation in discussions regarding the terms and conditions of this AWC, or other consideration of this AWC, including its acceptance or rejection.

III.

STATEMENT OF CORRECTIVE ACTION BY INTERACTIVE BROKERS LLC

This Corrective Action Statement is submitted by Interactive Brokers LLC (“IBKR” or the “Firm”). It does not constitute factual or legal findings by Nasdaq GEMX, LLC (“GEMX” or the “Exchange”), nor does it reflect the views of GEMX or GEMX staff.

IBKR submits this Statement of Corrective Action in connection with the foregoing Letter of Acceptance, Waiver, and Consent (“AWC”). As set forth in detail below, IBKR acted promptly to address the issues set forth in the AWC and invested substantial resources in investigating and remediating the items identified in this matter, including but not limited to via significant enhancements to the Firm’s policies and procedures and preparation of a complex lookback analysis.

IB’s Response to the Conduct at Issue: Once IBKR became aware of the inadvertent exclusion of complex orders from order counting for purposes of Professional customer designations, IBKR promptly investigated and, through its own thorough investigation, identified the similar inadvertent exclusion of certain cancel-replace orders. IBKR self-reported both items to the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (“FINRA”) on June 1, 2022 and completed its remediation with respect to complex orders within days of the June 2022 self-report, and with respect to the cancel/replace orders by early August 2022.

Updated Policies and Procedures: The Firm has made significant changes to its code development and release processes since the coding for purposes of determining Professional customer designations was originally released in 2009 to, among other things, catch issues like those described in the AWC before newly developed code is released.
