Direct Secondary Opportunities for Investors

As a leading facilitator of company-supported secondaries, Nasdaq Private Market offers institutional investors access to leading venture-backed technology companies.

Source New Deal Flow
NPM works directly with companies to facilitate shareholder liquidity, offering investors access to potential investments.

Company Access
NPM can provide direct access to company management and company-approved disclosure materials.

Streamlined Execution
The NPM platform helps expedite the transaction execution process.

Notification and Selection Process for Investment Opportunities
The process enables companies to provide disclosure materials to a pre-selected list of investors. Those investors can then perform necessary due diligence before making their investment decision.

Process Steps
1. NPM works with network of companies to identify secondary investment opportunities
2. Company provides disclosure materials to NPM
3. NPM sends list of Investors to Company
4. Company selects which Investor can review diligence
5. Investor reviews materials and determines initial interest
6. Investor provides LOI (offer price, size, expiration, terms)
7. Opportunity to meet Company Leadership and review diligence (1-2 weeks in most cases)
8. Deal terms finalized, transaction executed (Secondary Block Sales or Tender Offer)
Buyer Onboarding Process

After investors review and sign NPM’s Platform Access Agreement, they are added to a list of buyers that a company may select from to find future investors.
