GENERAL PRICE LIST INFORMATION

Nasdaq market data products are provided on a non-discriminatory basis, and the fees applied are determined by Customer categories, use case(s) of the data, and the applicable unit(s) of count.¹

The different Customer² categories represent significantly different use cases, and Customers may belong to more than one category. In this case, further incremental fees will apply.

For further information, including definitions, please refer to the Nasdaq European Markets Data Policies document \(Policy\). (www.nasdaq.com/solutions/european-pricing-policies)

The European Markets Data Price List (Price List) is organized by asset class and customer category, and unless otherwise stated, fees are quoted per month.

Please note that Nasdaq does not make the purchase of Nordic & Baltic pre- and post- trade transparency data contingent on the purchase of additional services. Customers wishing to purchase these unbundled products will find them under each asset class as a separate line item.

Customers are categorized as follow:

- Customer Category 1: External Distributor
- Customer Category 2: Realtime Professional
- Customer Category 3: Realtime Non-Professional
- Customer Category 4: Delayed Professional

The category or categories a Customer resides in is classified based on the use of the data. A Customer is considered to belong to more than one category if use cases are significantly different. For example: External Distributor of data and internal non-display applications will put a Customer in both the 'External Distributor'-category and the 'Realtime Professionals'-category.

Trading Memberships

Nasdaq applies discounts to some data products for Customers with a trading membership contributing to the price formation process with a Nasdaq Nordic and/or Nasdaq Baltic exchange. A Customer can become a member of a Nasdaq Nordic & Baltic exchange and be entitled to relevant member discounts on Nasdaq European Data products.

Membership may be granted for participation in trading on one or several Markets and one or several INET Nordic Market Segments, Equities Derivatives Trading Platform (EqD), Fusion FI or Genium INET Markets. A member of a Nasdaq Nordic INET market is entitled to discounts for relevant Nordic Equity licenses where a member discount is applied. A member of a Nasdaq Baltic INET market is entitled to discounts for relevant Baltic Equity licenses where a member discount is applied.

A member of a Nasdaq Nordic Genium INET Fixed Income market is entitled to discounts for relevant Nordic Fixed Income licenses where a member discount is applied.

CUSTOMER CATEGORIES

Customer Category 1: External Distributor

Customers in this category distribute Nasdaq Information outside of the Customer's entity as defined by the Global Data Agreement (GDA).

External Distribution fees are applicable for the right to externally redistribute real time information. Customers are billed according to the type of distribution that they offer, either distribution to Professional subscribers, to Non-Professional subscribers, or as an Extranet provider.

The External Distributor Fee for a data product generally includes the Internal Distributor Fee for that data product and Delayed redistribution. External distribution of eligible delayed products where the data is distributed for a fee, including a general fee for accessing services, is fee liable and Customers would be considered to also be in Category 4. See further details in section: Customer Category 4: Delayed Professional of this document. Non-Professional External Distributor fee is generally included in Professional External Distributor fees.

Customer Category 4: Delayed Professional

In general, use of Nasdaq Nordic & Baltic delayed data is free – however external distribution of eligible delayed products where the data is distributed for a fee, including a general fee for accessing services, is fee liable. External distribution of delayed data should be understood as the selling of delayed data in unchanged form to third parties, either directly by charging when giving access to that data, or via a general access fee.

Where

a Customer publishes delayed data on a website, but does not directly charge for that access, it is not considered re-distribution and no re-distribution fee applies.

Where

a Customer uses delayed information in the creation of value-added services that are then re-distributed for a fee, fees will apply. Value-added services should be understood as the creation of a product made on the basis of delayed data, for example through aggregating data sets across different sources or creating a historical series, or combining it with other information, and offering it as a product to third parties. Only those value-added services which are sold as a product for a fee to third parties should be considered as value-added services and will therefore be subject to a fee.
